PREFACE.

PREFACE.

The Twenty-Sixth Volume of the Lineage Book contains one thousand records from 25001 to 26000. It records the names of 25 "Real Daughters." Each volume as time passes lessening that number of "Real Daughters" of Revolutionary soldiers.

Many brave deeds of women are recorded in this book, the perusal of which cannot fail to inspire the present and coming generations with renewed zeal and patriotism. Our motto "Home and Country" is engraved on all our hearts and comprises what is purest and highest in our ideals and must be realized. This history we give year after year to the world brings us in touch with the heroes and heroines of the past and inspires us to emulate their example by fostering this love of country in the young that they may go on with our work.

In the past three years the organization has grown to an army of vast numbers stretching out its arms and gathering in the descendants of those of the original states from all parts of the world, uniting us in that divine fellowship of love of country.
